In the tradition of Theodore Roosevelt and Ernest Hemingway, Last Horizons is a thrilling account of hunting, fishing, and shooting adventures on five continents. Author John Hunter takes readers on a journey from the Arctic to the Our Book Library, from the African savanna to the Australian Outback.

Hunter is a lifelong outdoorsman and a skilled hunter, fisherman, and shooter. He has hunted big game in Africa, fished for trout in the Arctic, and shot birds in Europe. In Last Horizons, he shares his experiences with wit, humor, and a deep appreciation for the natural world.

Last Horizons is more than just a hunting and fishing book. It is also a celebration of the wild places of the world and the animals that live there. Hunter writes about the beauty of the Arctic tundra, the vastness of the African savanna, and the lushness of the Our Book Library rainforest. He also writes about the animals he has encountered, from polar bears to lions to elephants.

Last Horizons is a must-read for anyone who loves the outdoors, hunting, fishing, or shooting. It is also a great read for anyone who is interested in the natural world and the animals that live there.
