Chapter 1: The Birth of a Sisterhood

Meet the six remarkable women who forged an unbreakable bond: Alice Neel, Lee Krasner, Helen Frankenthaler, Joan Mitchell, Grace Hartigan, and Elaine de Kooning. As they navigated the male-dominated art world, they found solace and support in each other's company, creating a dynamic network of artistic exchange and mutual encouragement.

Chapter 2: Breaking the Glass Ceiling

Follow their struggles and triumphs as they shattered the glass ceiling of the art establishment. Through exhibitions, friendships, and collaborations, they challenged the notion that women were incapable of creating art on par with their male counterparts, propelling themselves to the forefront of the contemporary art scene.

Chapter 3: The Language of Abstraction

Explore the transformative canvases of these artists, where vibrant colors and bold brushstrokes became a language of liberation. They embraced abstraction as a means of expressing their inner worlds and defying the limitations imposed upon them by traditional art forms.

Chapter 4: The Power of Narrative

Journey into the narrative paintings of Alice Neel, where intimate portraits captured the complexities of human identity. Her honest depictions of motherhood, sexuality, and aging shattered the boundaries of representation, challenging societal expectations and embracing a raw and unvarnished portrayal of women's experiences.

Chapter 5: The Legacy of Liberation

Witness how the art and friendships of these women continue to inspire generations of artists and activists today. Their unwavering determination and enduring influence have paved the way for a more inclusive and equitable art world, where female voices are celebrated and valued.
